Jonesboro, Municipal Plant Town Without Water, Gets Industry

Jonesboro had the good fortune last week-end to be able to announce that giant General Electric has chosen it for the location of a half-million-dollar plant to employ 300 persons.

GE made it plain from the beginning it didn't want any financial help from the community, and is constructing a building of 70,000 square feet entirely "on its own." The new plant will produce small motors for refrigeration and air-conditioning equipment, for which, of course, there is an especially high demand during the torrid summers in the South and Southwest.

I emphasize Jonesboro's good fortune in getting this big new industry because certain characteristics of Jonesboro and Hope are similar. Both have municipal water & light plants, and both lack large surface water resources—that is, neither has a river or lake at its doorstep. And yet Jonesboro managed to get a rich industrial prize.

However, it should be pointed out that back in the early 1940's Arkansas Power & Light Co. built a big transformer station close to Jonesboro in order to furnish the municipal plant extra power at the wholesale level. I believe the municipal plant later discontinued purchases from the private utility, but the transformer station was still in place—and so while the Jonesboro municipal plant will connect with GE's new factory, the major part of the power will come from the A. P. & L. substation.

I point this out not only because Jonesboro has a nationally famous municipal-plant operation, and wasn't afraid to traffic with private power, but also because that private power supply certainly came in handy when a blue chip was thrown into the industrial trading.

Both the Jonesboro and Hope municipal plants are older institutions than the private power companies, and it is entirely unlikely that the people are going to abandon things that have belonged to them for two generations. But some points can be compromised to advantage. I think Jonesboro scored an advantage when it got A. P. & L. to install that transformer station nearby. And Jonesboro didn't give away any part of its municipal-plant operation.

Water, however, is a much more difficult factor than electricity, and it is certainly encouraging to find that another waterless Arkansas town has come up with a major factory location.

Taft Definitely Through With Active Politics

By LYLE C. WILSON

WASHINGTON (UP) — The worst-kept secret in town was out today — that Sen. Robert A. Taft is through with active politics.

Mr. Republican will not return to the Senate as leader of the Republican party there. He is gravely ill, and his health is failing.

New York hospital bulletins brought the public quickly up to date. The facts are that "Old" Taft, great son, spokesman for the conservative Republicanism of the Middle West, steadily has been losing ground in his great fight.

After the announcement that the senator's condition was deteriorating, the hospital bulletins said his condition continued to be unsatisfactory.

The seriousness of the illness was underlined when Taft's invalid wife was flown to his bedside from Washington and other members of the family were summoned.

The shock to the Eisenhower administration will be considerable. The President may have been informed of the exact nature of Taft's ailment. If so, he had not confided in his staff because only yesterday a member asked this reporter the question which has been buzzing around Washington now for weeks:

"What's the matter with Taft?" That's for the senator's physicians to answer officially. But the seriousness of his malady now is known.

Sen. Taft carried his official burdens until June 10, when he announced he was suffering from a hip lesion. As late as April 17, he had played golf with the President at Augusta, Ga.

On crutches and smiling, he was on and off the Senate floor during time away from several hospitals. He entered New York hospital July 4 for further treatment and diagnosis. It was there that the gravity of his illness was first suspected.

NEW YORK (AP) — The family of Sen. Robert A. Taft was gathered here today after his condition suddenly took a turn for the worse.

A New York Hospital bulletin last night reported the Senate majority leader was "generally weaker" and that his condition was "unsatisfactory." A later announcement said he was "resting a little more comfortably." He was reported not to be suffering any pain.

Yesterday was the first day of serious reports on the 3-year-old Ohio Republican, who has been at the hospital for several weeks for treatment of a hip lesion.

His wife Martha was brought to his bedside yesterday for her first visit to him since he entered the hospital. The day also marked the first time the hospital had issued more than one bulletin on his condition.

Besides Mrs. Taft the senator was visited by two of his sons, Lloyd and Robert Jr., yesterday and last night.

Cub Scouts to Receive Awards at Picnic

The Cub Scout picnic and awards ceremony which was postponed last week because of rain will be held Thursday night at 7 o'clock at Fair park.

Individual awards and advancement earned by Scouts during the past month will be given at this get-together, which replaces the July pack meeting.

All Cub Scouts and their entire families are invited to attend. Families should bring their own picnic lunches. Soft drinks will be on sale at the park.

The allotment for Hempstead county farmers is worked out from the basis of the national allotment. The national acreage allotment for the 1954 crop is 82 million acres. Production from the allotment plus carry-over will provide more than enough wheat in 1954, together with the estimated imports, to meet domestic and export needs plus the 30 percent required by law. The national acreage allotment is then apportioned among states and counties according to acreage seeded to wheat during the latest 10-year average, adjusted for trends and other factors.

Chairman Gilbert advised that any farmer who believes his wheat acreage allotment is not accurate may appeal to the county committee. If he is not satisfied with the county committee's decision he may appeal to a review committee of three farmers appointed by the Secretary of Agriculture which will consider the evidence and make a decision. If not satisfied with this decision, the farmer may, within 15 days, initiate proceedings for a review of the case by a court.

Macedonia Meet Continues

A revival meeting now in progress at Macedonia Methodist Church, near Blevins, will continue through Sunday night, August 2.

The Rev. Noel Cross, pastor of Oaklawn Methodist Church of Hot Springs, is preaching nightly at 8 o'clock.

Civil Cases Are Disposed of During July

During July at least three civil cases were disposed of in Hempstead Circuit Court without benefit of a jury. Rulings in the following cases were Judge Lyle Brown:

Cartation Company vs A. J. Hartman, judgment by default for $233.04 and cost.

H. C. Townsend vs Kenneth Elledge, judgment by default for $158.37.

Chester H. Yenger, administrator for the estate of Henry Yenger II, vs Missouri Pacific Railway Co., settlements for $300 and $2,500 paid to plaintiff in open court.

No Deal With Reds, Dulles Assures

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dulles has virtually eliminated the possibility of making a deal with the Reds for unification of Korea.

Instead, he appeared to be saying a policy similar to that of the West towards Germany — sticking to principles, counting on the attraction exerted by the free world on Communist satellites, and constantly keeping open the possibility of unification.

As applied to the Korean situation, such a policy contemplates failure of the forthcoming political conference to achieve Korean unification. Thus it sharpens the problem of what to do about South Korean President Syngman Rhee's threat to resume fighting for unity if it is not accomplished by agreement 90 days after the conference opens.

Dulles will fly to Korea, leaving here next Sunday morning. One of his principal tasks will maybe to try to persuade Rhee not to resume the war, whatever happens in the political meeting.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate today passed legislation to admit 29,000 refugees to the United States in the next three years, giving President Eisenhower a major victory on a hotly disputed issue.

The 63-30 vote climaxed a long and bitter controversy that once threatened plans for adjournment of Congress by the end of the week.

The compromise measure fell short of Eisenhower's original request submitted last April 22, for opening the United States to 400,000 Iron Curtain refugees and other special immigrants in the next three years.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressional leaders driving for adjournment this weekend ticketed for quick approval in the House and Senate today the biggest money bill of the session, a defense budget of $34,371,541,000.

The figure was a compromise reached late yesterday by a Senate-House conference committee which ironed out some 50 differences in versions of the bill passed earlier by the two branches.

The group accomplished the rare congressional feat of agreeing to a total that was about 25 million dollars below that originally voted by the House and nearly 140 million less than voted by the Senate. The usual practice is to arrive at a figure between the two.

Final action was planned today, first by the House and then by the Senate, to send the bill to the little House. The total it carries is about 1 billion dollars less than President Eisenhower asked and more than six billions below the budget recommendations of former President Truman.

WASHINGTON (AP) — An emergency immigration bill urged by President Eisenhower, but buffeted by sharp controversy in Congress, approached a showdown vote in the Senate today.

Republican leaders, calling the Senate into session two hours earlier than usual, said they were optimistic about passage even though they foresaw a fairly close vote.

The compromise bill is somewhat more restrictive than a measure the House passed last night 221-125 to admit 217,000 Iron Curtain refugees and other special quota immigrants in the next three years.

Under the Senate bill, the number of refugees would be limited to 200,000. This compares to the 240,000 Eisenhower asked Congress to admit in the next two years to help provide asylum for persons who have fled from Communist tyranny, and other homeless refugees.

The bill, part of the administration's "must" program before adjournment, was debated late into the night in the Senate. After the first hour of today's session, however, there was an agreement to limit debate on all amendments to 10 minutes.

House Approves Biggest Money Bill of Year While Senate Decides to Let in Immigrants

WASHINGTON (AP) — The year's biggest money bill, a compromise measure appropriating $34,371,541,000 to the Defense Department, was passed today by the House and sent to the Senate.

It was passed by voice vote. There was only about an hour of debate as the House moved swiftly to clear its legislative docket in a drive for final adjournment at the end of this week.

The Senate was trying to get the bill through today too.

Prisoner Went Wild Reports Red Radio

TOKYO (AP) — Peiping Radio said tonight American prisoners of war in North Korea "went wild with joy" when they heard the news of the armistice signing.

"American prisoners clapped, yelled and sent their caps flying into the air," the Red broadcast, heard here, said.

"Even the British prisoners, who are not easily excited, yelled and shouted," the radio said.

"Many of the prisoners of war rushed to the members of the Chinese peoples volunteers and shook their hands after the announcement," the broadcast said.

Highway 67 to Be Completed to Texarkana

By WILLIAM W. HUGHES

LITTLE ROCK (UP) — The long-programmed and much-needed pavement of the five-mile stretch of Highway 67 east of Texarkana will be built by the Arkansas Highway Department under a unique right-of-way agreement.

The commission voted today to build the road if the right-of-way for it is given to the state at a cost not to exceed $137,000. That is the amount of the state's appraisal of the land involved when the project was programmed during the administration of former Gov. Sid McMath.

The commission took the action today after Highway Director Herbert Eldridge reported on his recent meeting with Miller County officials. He said the county was eager to have the road built, and
